Dear Mr. Rancourt:

Re: uofowatch.blogspot.com

It has recently come to the University of Ottawa's attention that the above-referenced U of O Watch blog site is displaying several images whose copyright is owned by the University, namely an image of Tabaret Hall, an image of the President of the University of Ottawa with Mr. Telfer and an image of the President of the University of Ottawa and Mr. Lau. These images have been posted on the U of O Watch blog's website without the required permission of the University of Ottawa.

Images found on the University of Ottawa website are the sole property of the University of Ottawa. They may be used by faculty, staff, students and the news media solely for positive promotion of activities related to the University of Ottawa and credit for the images must be given to the University of Ottawa. Information on this policy can be found at the following hyperlink:

The images posted on the U of O watch blog site have not been used for positive promotion of activities related to the University of Ottawa nor has proper credit been given in respect of the images. Accordingly, the University of Ottawa hereby requires that you immediately remove the images of Tabaret Hall, of the President of the University of Ottawa with Mr. Telfer and of the President of the University of Ottawa and Mr. Lau from the U of O Watch blog site, uofowatch.blogspot.com. If you fail to remove these images by August 31, 2007, the University of Ottawa may take whatever action it deems necessary to protect its intellectual property rights.

Yours truly,

Michelle Flaherty
